
THOMAS AQUINAS COLLEGE
NONCUSTODIAL PARENT STATEMENT INSTRUCTIONS
2025-2026
California and New England Campuses

U.S. Student

All forms, including tax returns, are due by March 3, 2025.*

Thomas Aquinas College follows the principle that both parents, regardless of their current marital status, have the primary responsibility for providing for their child's education and should be expected to provide reasonable financial support before College resources are used. This form is used by the College to evaluate the financial strength of the student's noncustodial parent.

For the student to be considered for Thomas Aquinas College's institutionally-funded, need-based aid program, the noncustodial parent must follow these steps:

Step 1: With the student, determine which parent must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

In situations where parents are divorced or separated, the determination of the "parent of record" who completes the FAFSA is made in this specific order:

- 1) The "parent of record" is the parent who provided the greater portion of the student's financial support during the 12 months immediately prior to filing the FAFSA, even if the student does not live with that parent.
- 2) If neither parent provided support in the 12-month period in #1, the parent of record is the parent who provided the greater portion of support during the most recent year that the student received financial support from a parent.
- 3) If both parents claim an equal amount of support, then the parent of record is the parent with the greater amount of income and assets.

Step 2: Submit a completed Noncustodial Parent Statement (NPS) to the Financial Aid Office.

Thomas Aquinas College requires that the parent with whom the student lived the most in the past 12 months, (the "custodial parent") complete the Confidential Financial Aid Application (CFAA) while the other parent (the "noncustodial parent") complete this form, the Noncustodial Parent Statement (NPS).

Step 3: Submit a signed copy of the noncustodial parent's (and current spouse's, if remarried) 2023 federal tax return to the Financial Aid Office at Thomas Aquinas College.

Sign the copy of the tax return (or make a copy of the previously signed return). Be sure to include:

- All W-2s;
- All schedules and attachments sent to the IRS; and
- All SSA-1099s (Social Security Benefit Statements) for parents and all dependents within the family (if applicable).

Return the NPS and accompanying tax information to the Financial Aid Office through our secure file portal, or by mail.

Section A – Purpose of this Form

Thomas Aquinas College recognizes that financial complications may arise in meeting educational costs when parents are divorced or separated. The College believes, however, that parental responsibility for educational costs does not cease upon divorce or separation.

The College expects that a student's parents, even when divorced or separated, will provide funds for educational expenses based on their ability to contribute from their income and assets. Both of the student's parents will be expected to submit financial information and to provide assistance with college expenses based on their ability to pay, rather than their willingness to pay.

To apply for federal assistance, the student completes the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) together with the parent (and stepparent, if remarried) who provided the greater portion of the student's financial support during the 12 months immediately prior to filing the FAFSA, even if the student does not live with that parent. This parent is called the "parent of record."

To apply for Thomas Aquinas College assistance, the student completes the Confidential Financial Aid Application (CFAA) together with the parent (and stepparent, if remarried) with whom the student lived the most in the past 12 months. These instructions have not changed from prior years. This parent is called the "custodial parent."

Students who report that their biological or adoptive parents are separated, divorced or were never married, are required to have their noncustodial parent (and stepparent, if the noncustodial parent has remarried) complete this Noncustodial Parent Statement (NPS).

The income and assets of both parents (custodial and noncustodial) are considered when determining a student's eligibility for institutional aid.

Section B – Direct Costs for 2025-2026

Tuition	$31,000
Housing & Food	$11,400
Total Direct Costs	$42,400

Information regarding other indirect expenses, such as book expense, pocket money, etc. can be found on the College's website at <https://www.thomasaquinas.edu/financialaid/cost-attendance>.

Section C – Noncustodial Parent's Proposed Payment toward Tuition and Housing & Food

Thomas Aquinas College receives no campus-based subsidy from Church or State. It relies rather on the good faith effort of its students and their parents to pay as much as they are able toward the cost of the student's education. Students and parents are expected to make a maximum effort to cover the costs of tuition and housing & food from their own resources. Each year the College seeks charitable contributions from individuals and charitable foundations to make up the difference between what families are able to pay and the actual cost of education.

The questions in Section C ask you (and your current spouse if you have remarried) to generously and prayerfully consider how much you are able to pay toward your child's cost of tuition and housing & food at Thomas Aquinas College. The Church urges the Christian faithful to be generous in their support of apostolic works, including Catholic education, and to provide for the sustenance of those who carry out these ministries (cf. Canon Law 222, 800.2). Many families include what they pay toward Catholic education as part of their overall charitable giving. (You cannot deduct tuition payments as a charitable contribution for tax purposes, but the parent who claims the student as a dependent on the his/her tax return may be eligible for an education tax credit.)

In order to maintain fairness and equity, the Financial Aid Office also uses a uniform need-analysis formula to make a more mathematical determination of each family's payment responsibility. If a family's proposal exceeds the figure determined by the need-analysis formula, the Financial Aid Office will gratefully assemble a financial aid package that fits with the family's payment proposal. If, on the other hand, the need-analysis formula indicates a payment that is larger than the family's proposal, the financial aid package will be determined by the need-analysis formula.

1. Noncustodial parent's proposed payment toward tuition and housing & food in 2025-26 $ _____

The proposal asked for here should not include amounts that the custodial parent plans to contribute, nor should it include amounts the student plans to contribute from his or her summer income or savings. Those amounts will be determined by financial aid forms completed by the custodial parent and the student.

- (r) Veterans noneducation benefits such as Disability, Death Pension, or Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC)$ _____
- (s) Other untaxed income not reported above such as workers compensation, untaxed portions of railroad retirement benefits, Black Lung Benefits, etc.$ _____

If you want the Financial Aid Office to take into account any decrease in your income in 2024 (compared to income reported on your 2023 tax return which you are submitting as part of this application), you must provide documentation of your decreased income (e.g., a 2024 year-end paystub showing year-to-date income totals).

- 6. Child support paid in 2024 because of divorce or separation (Don't include support for children living in your household.)..... $ _____
- 7. Alimony paid in 2024 because of divorce or separation $ _____

Section F – Noncustodial Parent’s (and Current Spouse’s) Projected 2025 Income

8. Do you anticipate that your 2025 gross income (taxable + untaxable income) will be significantly different than it was in 2024 (for example, a new job, retirement, etc.)? We consider a "significant difference" to be a change of 10% or more (plus or minus).

- Yes, my 2025 gross income (taxable + untaxable income) will be significantly different than it was in 2024.
- No, my 2025 gross income (taxable + untaxable income) will not be significantly different than it was in 2024.

If yes, please explain the change and give the approximate dollar amount of your anticipated 2025 gross income (taxable + untaxable income):

Section G – Noncustodial Parent’s (and Current Spouse’s) Assets

Instructions for Section G:

Net worth means the current value, as of today, of rental properties, investments, businesses, and/or investment farms, minus debts related to those same rental properties, investments, businesses, and/or investment farms. When calculating net worth, use 0 for properties or investments with a negative value.

Investments: Investments are reported differently on this Noncustodial Parent Statement (NPS) compared to how they are reported on the FAFSA. On this NPS, we ask you to separate out (a) qualified education benefits and education savings plans, and (b) rental properties from other reportable investments. (See questions 10, 11 and 12 below.)

Investments include trust funds, money market funds, mutual funds, certificates of deposit, stocks, stock options, bonds, other securities, installment and land sale contracts (including mortgages held), commodities, unrented real estate (e.g., vacant land, a second home), etc.

Investments do not include the home in which you live, the value of life insurance, ABLE accounts, retirement plans (401[k] plans, pension funds, annuities, noneducation IRAs, Keogh plans, etc.), cash, savings, and checking accounts reported in question 9, qualified educational benefits and education savings plans reported in question 11, rental properties reported in question 12.

Investments also do not include UGMA/UTMA accounts for which the parent is the custodian but not the owner. (UGMA and UTMA accounts are considered assets of the student and must be reported as an investment asset of the student.)

Investment value means the current balance or market value of these investments as of today. Investment debt means only those debts that are related to the investments.

Qualified educational benefits and education savings plans (such as 529 college savings plans, or the refund value of 529 prepaid tuition, or Coverdell savings accounts) are reported separately from investments on this NPS. This is different than the way these savings plans and benefits are reported on the FAFSA form. (See the FAFSA instructions for how qualified educational benefits and education savings plans should be reported on that form.)

Rental properties are reported separately from investments on this NPS. This is different than the way these assets are reported on the FAFSA form.

(See the FAFSA instructions for how rental properties should be reported on that form.)

Businesses and investment farms include businesses that you own (including a small or family-run business) or income-producing farms that you own (including the fair market value of land, buildings, livestock, unharvested crops, and machinery actively used in investment farms, agricultural, or commercial activities).

Businesses and investment farms do not include the value of crops that are grown solely for consumption by the student and his family or the home in which you live. If the home in which you live is also located on a farm that you own, do not include the net value of that principal residence in the net value of all farm assets. The principal residence may include the home, structures, and land that are adjacent to the home that are not being used, stored, or sold for farming or other commercial activities.

Questions? If you have any questions about how assets should be reported on this NPS, call the Financial Aid Office at (805) 421-5936 or send an e-mail to finaid@thomasaquinas.edu. We will be happy to help you.

9. As of today, what is parents’ total current balance of cash, savings and checking accounts? $ _____
Do not subtract outstanding credit card balances or other bills, but you can use your cash, savings and checking accounts to pay off those debts before completing this form and, in that way, reduce your reported assets.

10. As of today, what is the net worth of the parents’ investments excluding $ _____
(a) qualified education benefits and education savings plans (These are reported in question 11.)
(b) rental properties (These are reported in question 12.)
See the instructions above for what should be included as an investment asset on this form. The home in which you live is never reported as an investment on this form. Net worth is the value of the investments minus any debts owed against them.

11. As of today, what is the value of qualified education benefits and education savings plans (e.g., Coverdell savings accounts, 529 college savings plans and the refund value of 529 prepaid tuition plans)?

Qualified education benefits and savings plans owned by the student $ _____

Qualified education benefits and savings plans owned by the noncustodial parent(s) for the student $ _____

Qualified education benefits and savings plans owned by the noncustodial parent(s) for other family members besides the student $ _____

12. As of today, what is the net worth of the parents’ rental properties? $ _____
Net worth is the value of the rental property minus any debts owed against them.

13. As of today, what is the net worth of the parents’ businesses and investment farms? $ _____
Net worth is the value of the businesses or farms minus any debts owed against them.
Check here if you or your family owns and controls more than 50 percent of the business, and the business has 100 or fewer full-time or full-time equivalent employees. For this question, your family includes (1) persons directly related to you, such as a parent, brother or cousin, or (2) persons who are or were related to you by marriage, such as a spouse, stepparent or brother-in-law.

Qualified retirement plan accounts include accounts such as 401(k), 403(b), 457, annuities, traditional IRAs, Roth IRAs, Roth 401(k), SEP SIMPLE and Keogh plans. Check here if you have a pension plan:

Section H – 2025-26 Family Member List and School List

Please read these instructions in their entirety before completing the table shown below. These instructions for defining family size are not the same as those found on the FAFSA.

16. List the name, age and relationship to the student applicant of the family members in your (the noncustodial parent’s) household.

Include:

- The student applicant, even if he does not live with you.
- You (the noncustodial parent) and your current spouse if you have remarried.
- Children for whom you will provide more than half of their support from July 1, 2025, through June 30, 2026.
(Typically foster children do not count in household size as their costs are covered by foster care payments.)
- Your unborn child if that child will be born by June 30, 2026 and you will provide more than half of the child’s support from birth through June 30, 2026. (If there is a medical determination of a multiple birth, then all expected children can be included.)
- Other people if they now live with you and receive more than half of their support from you at the time of this application and will continue to receive that support through June 30, 2026.

To determine whether to include children in the household size, the “support” test is used (rather than a residency requirement) because there may be situations in which a parent supports a child who does not live with the parent. In such cases, the parent who provides more than half of the child’s support may claim the child in his or her household size. It does not matter which parent claims the child as a dependent for tax purposes.

Support includes money, gifts, loans, housing, food, clothes, car payments or expenses, medical and dental care, and payment of school costs. If you receive benefits such as Social Security or Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) payments, in the child’s name, these benefits ought to be counted as parental support of the child.

If there are more family members than rows available, list the others in Section J.

If any of these family members will attend elementary or secondary school (including homeschool) in 2025-26, please provide the name of the school in the appropriate column. Report their expenses in Section J.

If any of these family members will attend college at least half-time in 2025-26, please provide the full name of the college (not an abbreviation) in the appropriate column. Indicate whether the student will be attending college full-time or half-time in 2025-26.

Section I – Noncustodial Parent’s (and Current Spouse’s) Special Circumstances (OPTIONAL)

This section is OPTIONAL.

This section asks about special circumstances which may impact a family’s ability to pay for college. If you wish to have these circumstances taken into consideration when determining your son’s or daughter’s eligibility for need-based financial aid, please answer the questions listed in this section. As always, all information reported to the Financial Aid Office is kept in the strictest confidence. If you prefer not to complete this section, skip to Section J.
